

Water & Geology

The annual symposium on water-related research of the Geological Survey of Austria (Geologische Bundesanstalt – GBA), which used to take place on World Water Day, had to be canceled because people are countrywide obliged to stay at home as a measure against COVID-19 spreading.

However, GBA impulsed to deliver information to people at home via their online channels. Therefore, there will be a special highlight on water – general information and importance, research results, relevance to climate, sharing infos on World Water Day etc.- in the next days at the facebook and twitter sites of GBA.
